OUR CLIENT'S WORDS

Mr. Shaibal Das

Corporate Gifting either to colleagues or clients have been always nightmare to me especially because of the cumbersome process involved in freezing upon the gifts. I had this extremely critical deadline to meet for one particular key client of mine where I would dare not take any chances... Known through our own fantastic colleague , we got in touch with Giftbuds and sure it literally took away all my worries and hassle. Not just the variety of corporate gift options but the ease of gliding through them narrowing down on the products meeting your allotted budget was unbelievable. Club this with the human touch Ms. Ashwini brings for making the experience memorable is unmatched Being in corporate, there's always the tedious approval required for fund allotment and remittance which is another hindering block for everyone but must say Giftbuds does believes in 'Taking leap of faith' to ensure timely deliveries and meet critical deadlines for worthy clients Extremely happy and satisfied with Giftbuds and my best wishes to the entire team for multifold growth in coming years Keep up the good work, Team Giftbuds

I approached Ashwini when I was in need of New Year gifting for our colleagues and clients. I did not want to go the conventional way but wanted to keep the gifting simple yet colourful. After a few discussions, we zeroed it down to a beautiful modern designer diary, colourful and super delicious cupcakes and an aromatic orange colour candle which represented our company logo. We received such great feedback from everyone concerning the gifts. Everyone loved it. The icing on the cake was the gift wrap. It was meticulous, elegant and clearly showed the efforts taken. Thank you and best wishes to Giftbuds.

Mr. Rahul Satpute

We were having alumni meet in the college. So for giving gifts to alumni I searched on India Mart. I called Gifts buds corporate gifting company. Just on Telephonic call I was been given and presented by many options that can be given by posting my college name on Gifts. With nice discussion we were at the final .I got delivery of items on time with out any damaged product. My personal opinion says as this company is setting it's own benchmark in there every new order and delivery of items. No doubt today there are best but there future including all there customer is also bright. Gifts buds very well understands there customers needs and customize them. Best of luck them to achieve many more heights.
